

Future Jobs Working Today Documentary

Discussion Questions

1. After watching the documentary, what is something new you learned about future jobs you didn't know before? What sparked your interest? Why?
2. How can you explore your interests and gain experience? What are some resources available to you? Discuss what materials and resources you would need to prepare to pursue this interest.
3. Many of the jobs today will still be part of the future, but they will also change just like everything else. How do you think current jobs will change? What will remain constant?
4. A common misconception about getting a job is that you have to go to college. What are some alternative pathways for students in getting jobs? What makes them appealing?
5. Many jobs will change into something entirely new—or disappear altogether. We might feel safe with the status quo or fearful of the future. What are some skills which are transferrable regardless of the job market and trends? How can you develop these skills?