

The WRITERS CONTEST PODCAST

Episode 5: Friendship

There was once a little boy named Sam. Sam lived in a faraway place where all of the houses were (insert color). All of the trees were (insert color here) and all of the clothes were (insert color). Sam loved it because everything around him was always so colorful. In this land, kids ruled the world and Sam was the king. He sat on a throne of (insert your favorite rock) and his cape was made of the finest material. His cape was sturdy and as soft as (insert something soft). He ruled over his kingdom fairly and always looked to his mom for advice. He loved his mom dearly and everyone said that he had her (insert physical characteristic). Being King was a lot of fun for Sam because he was able to do whatever he wanted to. He could play with (insert animals) all day, he could buy as many (insert favorite toy) as he wanted, and he could eat (insert your favorite food) for every meal. Despite having a fun and adventurous life, sometimes Sam felt lonely. Being a King is a lot of work and people just don't want to be friends with someone who is always busy. On (insert a date), Sam decided to call upon all of the land in search of a friend. He decided that every boy his age would participate in 3 trials and the winner would be his friend. The first trial was shooting a bow and arrow. The second trial was catching a fish. And the third trial was climbing up the jungle gym and grabbing the (insert object) from the top. Whoever won the trails would be his new best friend! As the boys started to line up, Sam was filled with excitement. The boy that stepped up had a bright hair color that looked like (insert hair color) and (insert object). He said that his name was (insert boy name). He ended up dropping the bow during his first trial and was sent home. The second boy stepped up and his name was (insert boy name) . He shot the bow just fine, but when it came time to fish, he was pulled into the water. The boy was pulled out and sent back to school. The next few hours continued on like this, Sam would watch a new boy step up and he wouldn't be able to complete all 3 trials. By the afternoon, it was already (insert time) o'clock, Sam had watched (insert a crazy number) boys fail. Sam was just about ready to call it a quits, when one last boy stepped up. This boy had dark (insert cool color) eyes, black hair, and was wearing (insert describe your favorite outfit) . Sam watched as he picked up the bow and hit the bull's eye. He put the bow on the ground and smiled. Then he went and picked up the fishing rod. Within seconds, he pulled out a (insert type of fish) that was half of his size. Sam watched in amazement as he threw the fish back into the water and walked over to the jungle gym. He rubbed his hands together and started climbing up the side. He made it past the first level that had (insert a cool jungle gym feature), then the second, and he climbed up the top and grabbed the flag. With the flag in his hand, he jumped down and stood up with triumph. Sam was so happy that he was barely able to ask the boy his name. "What is your name? You are my new best friend." Sam declared. The boy walked towards Sam and said, "My name is Xander, and we will be the best of buddies." The boys smiled at each other and Sam asked him to come back to the castle with him. When they got back to the castle, they went outside to play in the mini golf course. After golf, they decided to have a sleepover in the movie room. They watched (insert your favorite movie) and ate (insert favorite movie theater snack). They had the best time ever and realized that they would be friends forever. Sam would never feel lonely ever again.
